The EAOC Weekly

SPOTLIGHT ON EAOC'S TRUSTED HANDYMAN, RUBEN MOTA

Leonardo Da Vinci said it best: "Art is never finished, only abandoned." That's the feeling the group got during Ruben Mota's presentation this week, where we could clearly see he has a passion for perfection. With seamless, meticulous results, professionalism, and fair prices, Ruben has impressed EAOC members and their referrals again and again on a variety of projects.

With over 20 years in the water restoration industry, Ruben's goal has always been for his repairs to go virtually unnoticed—unless they're upgrades, of course. Capable of building a house from the ground up, there's virtually nothing that Ruben can't do, and he has a crew to assist on larger projects requiring more attention.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Hello EAO C!

The sun is shining, the birds are singing, and EAO C got a head start on the competition once again on Wednesday. We are back to fine, linen-covered tables, and enjoying some pre-meeting networking for those who have been arriving bright and early at 6:45 AM.

Our roundtable discussion this week on Artificial Intelligence was insightful, and we all need to be very careful with how much information we divulge on our cell phones. The best takeaway is don't say "yes" when answering your phone to a pre-recorded greeting.

Our new member and Handyman, Ruben Mota, educated us on the many diverse skillsets he has, from painting, drywall, tile, and framing. Many EAO C members have used Ruben, and have had great results. Thank you Katie, for helping out with his Power Point, and to Gizi for our weekly Membership Moment.

Reminder, if you need to change any information on your EAO C Directory listing, please email Katie ASAP. Updated Directories will be going to print soon.
